ARE AT UNIONTOWN.*Annual Reunion Being Held
With General Howard
Guest of Honor.*NEARLY 600 ARE ON HAND

During the Past Year 43 Deaths Occurred in the Ranks, the Largest in Any Year Since the Organization Was Perfected.

UNIONTOWN, Oct. 7.—The Fayette County Veterans' Association is holding its annual session in Uniontown today with between 500 and 600 veterans present. General Oliver O. Howard, the only surviving division commander of the Civil War, is the guest of honor and will deliver two lectures, one this afternoon on "The American Volunteer Soldier," and this evening on "Gettysburg." Col. J. M. Schoonmaker of Pittsburgh arrived in a special train shortly after noon, having come by way of Connellsville.

Officers were elected soon after the session convened with W. T. Kennedy presiding. The new officers are: President, W. T. Kennedy; Vice Presidents, Captain W. S. Craft, J. R. Bueley, Joseph Rankin, and Sol. G. Krepps; Secretaries, J. O. Miller and Edgar Husted; Chaplain, F. M. Cunningham; Treasurer, A. I. Ellis; Quartermaster, Milton Kemp; Assistant Quartermaster, Levi Francis.

The address of welcome was delivered by Attorney Woods N. Carr, Rev. J. H. Pershing of Greensburg making the response. The memorial committee, through Evans Rush, reported 43 deaths since the last reunion, the largest number to occur within any one year since the society was formed. After the morning's business had been transacted the veterans, headed by General Howard and Captain J. M. Husted, marched from the municipal building to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, where dinner was served. Captain W. S. Craft acted as marshal.

The oldest veteran in attendance is Benjamin Gill of Marion county, West Virginia. He is 101 years old. Three veterans of the Mexican war are on hand. They are Henry L. Reger, of Connellsville; William Freeman of Georges township, and A. C. Brandt of Fairchance.

The meeting will conclude with the camp fire this evening, to which all veterans were urged to attend.

HORSE HETZEL GOT DROPPED DEAD LATER

Equine Steed Owned by William Wallace Breathed Last in Evans' Stable.

The equine steed owned by William Wallace and used by him to pull a huckster wagon breathed its last in Evans' livery stable at an early hour this morning, soon after having been impounded by Special Officer George Hetzel.

Yesterday afternoon the horse was in bad shape and Burgess Evans ordered Wallace to take care of it. Wallace turned the horse loose in a field but shortly after midnight it wandered down town. About two o'clock Bernard Stillwagon, a member of the Fire Department, saw the horse wandering about and notified Hetzel. The animal was taken to J. L. Evans' stable, where it died a few minutes later.

DON'T MIND DUMPING DIRT; KICK ON MANURE

Apple Street Residents Say Stable Refuse is Going on Their Thoroughfare.

Residents on East Apple street have an awful kick to make on the improvements the borough has under way on that hill. The street is being filled and the road improved in this manner, but the property owners say more stable refuse is going on the street than dirt.

As a consequence an awful stench is said to arise from the street, placing the neighborhood in danger of a fever epidemic. The refuse, it is alleged, is being taken out of Armstrong's stable and dumped on the hill.

HAS A COLD.

Burgess J. L. Evans is Talking Badly Today.

Burgess J. L. Evans was in bad condition today. He was not very affable either as he is suffering from a severe cold. It's the worst cold, he says, that he has ever had and to be pleasant is a hard job.

Besides the cold he is worrying about a dead horse in his stable and he does not feel very pleasant over the situation.

INDUSTRIAL FAIR
MAY BE PERMANENT

J. B. Hogg Says in the Idea a Good One for Boosting the Town.

Advocating the inauguration of an annual industrial exposition for Connellsville manufacturers, Engineer J. B. Hogg is talking considerable interest in the approaching exhibit, at the Armory, believing that it may lead to something more elaborate in the future. He advocates exhibits by the manufacturing concerns here, together with those of Scottsdale, Dunbar and the surrounding community.

Mr. Hogg is making arrangements for an elaborate exhibit at the Industrial Exposition to be held in the Armory next week under the auspices of the United Presbyterian Church. Mr. Hogg has taken one of the largest spaces obtainable. Here he will have on display the best maps from his wide selection, and probably a demonstration in map making.

Miss Grace Searson will be in charge of the exhibit, being the most expert operator on the calculating machines that will be demonstrated. During the evening experts from the office will be on hand to answer all questions.

DOUBLE WEDDING AT COURT HOUSE

Both Couples Hall From Greene County and the Bonds That Bind Were Self-Tied.

UNIONTOWN, Oct. 7.—The meeting of the veterans in Uniontown today resulted in an unusual double wedding in the court house when John H. Guseman and Mrs. Lucinda Horner, both of Carmichaels, were self married in the Register and Recorder's office, and immediately afterward Bertha L. Guseman, 15 year old daughter of the bridegroom, took John W. Hathaway, aged 38, of Rice's Landing, for a husband.

The second Mrs. Guseman stood as a witness for her stepdaughter when the simple ceremony was performed. Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Guseman, parents of John H. Guseman and grandparents of the bride, witnessed the marriage. Abraham Guseman is a veteran and came to Uniontown to participate in their festivities today.

Editor of The Courier: Dear Sir:—In your paper of September 20th, you published certain allegations relative to myself. Allow me to make a few corrections: When I left Connellsville I did not leave for Kalamazoo, Mich. My whereabouts have never been in any way a mystery. I left Connellsville to get away from the ceaseless persecutions of C. D. Yowler, my husband. Anyone wishing a mutual or friendly explanation of my behavior may write me, Kalamazoo, Mich., general delivery, Sarah Yowler.

Hungarian Treasurer of Brownsville Insurance Society Thus Explains Missing Money.

UNIONTOWN, Oct. 7.—John Bely, treasurer of the Hungarian Beneficial Society of Brownsville, is making his headquarters in the county jail, having been arrested last night on the charge of forging the name of Mrs. Juliana Amedeo to a $500 check. He denies his guilt.

The story goes to a period about two years ago when George Bely was insured in the society. His wife was to get $1,000 and the children cared for. The wife died and George married Juliana Amedeo. On his wedding night he was mysteriously murdered.

MISSIONARY WOMEN
CLOSE THEIR WORK.*Yesterday's Sessions Taken Up With Plans Accomplished.*OUTLOOK THE COMING YEAR

Vandergrift Was Chosen as Place of Next Meeting—A Portable Chapel in Honor of Miss Jennie Reamer Donated $1,000.

Yesterday afternoon's session of the annual convention of the Woman's Foreign and Home Missionary Society of the Pittsburgh Synod in session in Trinity Lutheran Church, was largely attended and was pronounced the best session. The church was filled with interested missionary workers and the program was greatly appreciated. Following the devotional exercises conducted by Mrs. H. B. Clark of Winklesburg, was a discussion of "What Has the Spirit of Missions Done?" The social side of the topic was discussed by Mrs. U. P. Blair of Homestead. Mrs. T. A. Hines of Slippenville discussed the topic from an intellectual standpoint. Mrs. F. J. Matter of Manorville, Pa., spoke of what missions had done spiritually.

"Need of Education and Training the Young" was the subject of a very good talk given by Mrs. M. M. Allbeck of Monongahela followed by a report of the general convention held at Dixon, Ill. The report was given by Mrs. C. F. Stifel of Allegheny. Rev. U. P. Sankov of New Kensington, Pa., extended greetings to the convention from the Pittsburgh Synod, while greetings from the Missionary President were conveyed to the convention by Rev. J. Elmer Blitt of Turtle Creek.

Miss Ruth Garrett, a returned missionary from Africa, gave an instructive talk on "Africa." Miss Garrett's home is in Wilkesburg. She has been engaged in mission work for about three years and while in Africa became acquainted with the ways and customs of the people there. She is a very fluent talker and is a young lady of much personal charm.

At the conclusion of Miss Garrett's address supper was served in the dining room of the church.

The evening session opened with services conducted by Rev. U. P. Sankov followed by a talk by Mrs. J. J. Ducker of Bradock. Miss Garrett then gave an address on "Glimpses of Africa" which was equally as interesting as the one given in the afternoon. Special music was rendered by the church choir followed by the closing services.

At the closing session this morning Vandergrift was chosen as the place for holding the next annual convention. The convention adjourned at 12 o'clock and many of the delegates returned to their homes on the afternoon trains. The session opened this morning with devotional exercises conducted by Miss Charlotte Donaldson of Butler, followed by the roll call. The next period was taken up with a business session during which time it was decided to erect a $1,000 portable chapel in memory of the late Jennie Reamer, who on her death left a legacy to the society. The chapel will be used for missionary work in the Pittsburgh Synod only. It was also voted by the society to support Miss Leola Hoss, a missionary, who sails in November for Africa to engage in mission work. Miss Hoss will take up the work which was formerly in charge of Miss Ruth Garrett.

Reports from the various committees were then heard. During the last year about 20 new missionary societies were organized while the children's societies have increased largely in number also. The convention was one of the best ever held. Miss Ruth Garrett conducted a conference on Africa and had on exhibition articles made by the natives of Africa. The meeting closed with the benediction.

Fair Weather Promised. Fair tonight and Friday, warmer to night, is the noon weather-bulletin.

United Press Telegram.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 7.—Fleeing from the demands of an alleged "Black Hand" Society, Urgania Hessa, his wife and three children, passed through here today guarded by a Deputy Sheriff, en route to New York.

Hessa is a merchant of Grove City. Known to be wealthy, he was threatened with death unless he left $1,000 for the Society. He refused and his child was kidnapped. When the child was recovered the family started to leave Grove City by train but was stopped by members of the "Camorra."

The family walked to Butler, where the deputy arranged to guard them to New York, where they will embark for Italy.

Hessa believes the agents of the society are still seeking him, and fears for his wife and children. So great is the fear that he has abandoned his business in Grove City and will flee to Italy at once.

A TRUANT OFFICER
FOR THE MOUNTAINS.*Springfield Township School Board to Compel Youths to Attend School.*WHIPKEY INCIDENT THE CAUSE

Director Shank in Connellsville Today Tells His Side of Story—Boy Has Returned Home, But Will Not Attend School.

School Director Edward Shank was in Connellsville this morning from Springfield township and stated that a truant officer is to be appointed by the School Board there at a meeting on Saturday. Russell Whipkey, who ran away from home some time ago, has returned, but he has not gone back to school. William Whipkey, the boy's father, some time ago accused Director Shank of keeping his boy out of Room No. 2 in the township schools and being indirectly the cause of him leaving home.

Director Shank says young Whipkey with six other pupils failed to pass their entrance examinations into Room No. 2, but this fall when Whipkey came back to school he went into the upper room. Fred Horner, teacher of Room No. 2, reported Whipkey back in his studies and Director Shank ordered him to the lower room. Director John Pringley agreed with him. Shank says young Whipkey didn't know his three multiplication tables.

Secretary Pringley of the board examined the boy's papers and found that he had failed badly in his examinations. When an examination of the boy was obtained at Mill Run he ran away. He is 14 years old and Shank says the truant officer will be expected to see that he attends school this term.

A CONSUMPTIVE'S BATTLE FOR LIFE.

When Despair Seems All That Is Left for Him He Strives, Even When the Doctors Gave Him Up, and Recovers Through Faithful Use of Father John's Medicine.

This experience of a man who was given up to die of consumption, of his struggle for health and life and of his complete triumph over the disease, is told by Rowell H. Lewis, of 61 Second street, Gloversville, N. Y., in order that all who are tending toward consumption may have the advantage of the means he took to fight the disease.

Mr. Lewis in January, began to have hemorrhages lost 23 pounds, and in April was so weak he could hardly stand. A consultation of physicians was held and the verdict was that it was consumption, that one lung was nearly gone.

Then followed trips to the Adirondack and Catskill mountains, but after his return home he found that his condition was no better and that his friends in the church called to see him for the last time, as they supposed.

It was at this stage that he began to take Father John's Medicine, three bottles of the medicine indicated his weight 55 pounds, and by continuing faithfully with the medicine he more than regained his former weight.

"He I was able to give every consumptive Father John's Medicine," says Mr. Lewis, "for I know what it can do when given a fair trial."

Mr. Lewis says his recovery was such a surprise to his friends that it was made a subject for praise and thanksgiving at a prayer meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church which he attends in Gloversville.

"I would the public to know what Father John's Medicine has done for me," adds Mr. Lewis, "at the close of his recovery of his remarkable case."

THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN FAYETTE.

The political situation in Fayette county is getting interesting, especially to Republicans who are in the habit of supporting and voting the Republican ticket.

Interest clusters around the judicial fight, but the storm center is within the Democratic party. Some of its prominent members are engaged in the violent operation of skinning each other's political hides from their respective political anatomies. They are telling tales of political iniquity quite at variance with the insistent claims of superior Democratic virtue hitherto advanced. It is said that honest men get their dues when a certain other class of people fall out, and it is certain that when Fayette county Democrats fall out Fayette county Republicans hear some mighty entertaining political gossip.

Ex-Candidate Dumbauld tells us that Candidate Umbel is a briber and a bad man; Candidate Umbel tells us that Ex-Candidate Dumbauld is a grafter and a gambler; and both tell their stories with a wealth of detail and a reckless abandon which indicate that the Democratic party is in the throes of an internal war which will not end until the polls close in November, and hardly then. Both men have stood high in the councils of their party; they have been political partners; they evidently know much that has never been told before.

If we are to believe all they tell us, it is evident that there is little or no virtue left in Fayette county Democracy once reputed honest though sometimes mistaken, and consequently no good reason why any good Republican should support any ticket but his own. In this connection, Chairman Johns, of the Republican County Committee, has issued this notice to Republicans:

I am advised that it is currently reported and industriously circulated throughout the county that certain prominent Republicans, some of them connected with the Republican County Committee, have indicated towards either a part or the whole of the Republican county ticket, if not actually antagonistic thereto. Statements of this character emanate wholly from the enemy and are designed to dampen the ardor and diminish the activity of the party workers and thus injure the ticket.

These reports are utterly false and no credit should be given them. The party is united, all the officials and workers are heartily for the whole ticket, and every Republican is heartily urged to vigorous effort to carry the county for the entire ticket.

The Republican ticket is composed of good men of high reputation. It is as follows:

JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT, Robert von Mochisteler.
AUDITOR GENERAL, Arthur E. Simon.
STATE TREASURER, Jeremiah A. Stober.
JUDGE OF THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, Alfred E. Jones.
POOR DIRECTOR, Oliver J. Garwood.
JURY COMMISSIONER, William T. Kennedy.
It is not alleged that any of these men secured their nominations by improper methods. They compose the Republican ticket and are well worthy of united Republican support. We know of no reason why they should not, each and every one of them, receive that support.

The Courier has not thought it necessary to vilify, abuse and libel any portion of the Democratic ticket. We leave that for the Democrats to do, and they seem to be making a thorough job of it. As a Republican paper, we stand with all good Republicans for the Republican ticket, the whole ticket and nothing but the ticket.

We trust this explanation will be sufficient for the few who have indulged in the suspicion that The Courier was not loyal to the ticket because it has not spent the whole summer in emitting loud noises. Our support of the Republican ticket will be none the less sincere, and we believe none the less effective, for being decent and dignified, though we must be understood as distinctly disclaiming any intention of criticizing the policies of other papers with whose methods we have no quarrel and for which we are in no wise responsible.

A Morgantown man argues very ably that J. V. Thompson's investments in West Virginia coal lands have been a great benefit to the State for the reason that they have enhanced coal values generally, and instances a number of West Virginia holdings of large extent and longer standing than any of Thompson's which were bought at lower figures than those of the Uniontown man and have been held for longer periods with no signs of development. There are still some sane men left in West Virginia who do not want to drive foreign capital out of the State.

The judicial contest looks more like a factional fight than the non-partisan judicial election.

Chairman Johns has sounded the Republican keynote.

The Uniontown Genius refers in a screamer head to "Horatio Seymour Dumbauld." The Saltlick township incumbent's name is not Seymour, but Barker; and Barker is just as good a Democratic name as Seymour.

In baseball players seem to have had board bills.

The less influence a newspaper has the more prone it usually is to brag about its wonderful achievements in moulding public opinion.

Dummy says the Democratic primary was a Carnival of Crime. Judicial primaries have something of a reputation in Fayette county, but we never heard them described just in that way.

Stidwain reform has invaded Smithfield.

Columbus Day in Connelleville will wind up in a grand blaze of glory which will paint the heavens with new brilliancy. When it comes to fireworks our Italian friends are right in their element.

Mount Pleasant has a touch of typhoid and no time should be lost in locating the touch.

It is announced that Greene and Washington counties will be covered with a network of trolley lines reaching all their chief towns and industrial possibilities, and the farmers generally welcome the project and are willing to give it right-of-way. The

How a trip through this happy land begins to look to the President.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

United Press Special.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Everybody handles bank notes and everybody notices that the form of the bills is being changed.

Everybody knows—although in the fast-moving age it may be more a hazy recollection—that Congress passed a law, after the financial panic of 1907, authorizing the issue of emergency currency to meet a time of similar stringency. But how many know that this kind of currency is now, and has been for months, in free circulation, and can tell the difference between that and the old kind?

And yet, up to the close of business on the last day of September, there had been issued by the Treasury Department the enormous total of $318,508,730 of the new emergency notes and they are in circulation today.

The work has been going on without any fuss or feathers and there has been no public notice about it, but the fact remains that nearly one-half of the currency in circulation is emergency currency. The old bills have been withdrawn and destroyed, and the new bills put in their place, since May 30, 1908, when the emergency currency act was passed.

Of course there has been no emergency currency issued since then. And really, the new bills are known as the "Emergency Series," they are not emergency notes at all. It was deemed eminently advisable, if a stringency should come and occasion should be had to resort to the emergency features of the law, that the new notes should not be different in general form from those already in circulation. Otherwise their appearance might alarm the public and increase the uneasiness prevalent at such times of panic.

So, in preparation for such an event, it was decided to change every outstanding national bank note so as to make them conform to the design of the real emergency notes. That process has been going on gradually and quietly until, as stated, there are now over three hundred millions of dollars of the new currency in circulation.

Every new bank that is then organized in the last 10 months has been supplied with the new form of bills and notes of old banks sent in to the Treasury for redemption are being replaced by the new currency whenever possible. Some of the old bills still have in stock in the Treasury Department a supply of printed bills of the old form and, of course, these are being worked off first, but the new issue is being put out as rapidly as possible.

The total amount of national bank circulation, according to the last report of the Comptroller of the Currency dated October 1, is $702,807,410, so there is still a large amount of the old currency in circulation.

There is really not a great deal of difference between the old and the new bills, so that it is not surprising that the latter have not attracted attention. The old bills bear on their face a notification to the effect that they are secured by United States bonds, while the new ones are secured by "United States bonds or other securities."

So far there is no outstanding national bank circulation not secured by United States bonds.

On the back of the new bills in places which are blank in the old ones, appear in large figures the dates of the issue—1908-1909.

In order to make the changes every national bank in the country had to have new plates made from which to print its new notes. They cost, in denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100. The printing is all done at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving in the city of Washington.

The establishment pretty busy to keep up with the work.

THE BAIRDS LOSE ANOTHER ENGINE.

Scottdale Men Have Bad Luck With a Bridge
at Morgan.

SECOND ENGINE TO BE WRECKED

Presbyterians Are Continuing Missionary Meeting—Supervisors Are After Vandals Who Destroy Sign Boards—Other News of Mill Town.

SCOTSDALE, Oct. 7.—For the second time within a couple of years Joseph Baird, a farmer and thresher of west of town, has lost a threshing engine by its falling through a bridge, that was in unsafe condition. While passing over a bridge at Morgan station yesterday the bridge broke down and the threshing engine fell through to the bottom of the stream 10 or more feet below. The man on the engine managed to escape without injury, and the engine standing on its end in the ravine is a sight that has attracted much attention from those passing by. The bridge is on the road from Morgan to Dry Hill, spans a deep run, and is constructed of timber. Neither Mr. Baird nor any of his crew knew that the bridge was in a bad condition.

The engine was allowed to rest where it fell, no attempt being made to extricate it from its place. It is likely that a suit for damages will be brought, the owners say, against Fayette county for maintaining a bridge that an engine could not safely cross. The engine that went down yesterday was a bit and new one bought but a few weeks ago, and going out on its first threshing tour over the county. The engine that went down yesterday replaced one that fell through the bridge at Cheltenham, not far from Baird's home, not long ago, and which was totally ruined. Mr. Baird lifted the engine out at that time, and received but a small amount for it. It is said that the county will have to remove the latest victim of unstable bridges.

Presbyterians' Meeting.
Rev. J. B. Hutchinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, presided at the Wednesday evening session of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church meeting here. Rev. L. J. L. Proudfoot delivered an address on "Our Country For Christ," and this was followed by prayer. During the day the following persons took part in the program: Mrs. T. C. Jones spoke on "Why Am a Delegate." Miss M. B. McClintock gave a review of the year's work. Mrs. B. W. Bowman talked of the Presbyterian literature. Mrs. Savilla McAfee gave a report of the temperance work during the year. Miss Hall, Miss London, Rev. Mr. Palmer and Miss Alexander gave recent news from the missions. Mrs. McDowell delivered a special prayer for the missionaries. Mrs. Kinley McMillan gave a birdseye view of the Young People's work. Miss Dwyer a review of the finances of the last year. Mrs. Martha Shaw a consecrating prayer. Mrs. Ean Bayne led the devotional exercises, and a memorial service was held. Miss Marie C. Braham of Chicago delivered a temperance address, and the closing service was led by Mrs. S. B. Hutchinson. The meetings are continuing today.

The Contest Figures.
The banner stretched across Pittsburgh street from the Y. M. C. A. headquarters giving the progress being made in the contest for new members being carried on showed this morning that the Ship and Mill Men have 16 to their credit and the Business and Professional Men 20 to their score. The contest is being driven forward with a great deal of vigor.

Friends and relatives here received cards yesterday from Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miller of Caldwell, Idaho, announcing the birth on October first of a daughter, Mildred Louise, weighing nine pounds. Mr. Miller is a former Scottsdale boy, who is in the real estate business in the west.

Notices Are Posted.
The Board of Supervisors of East Huntingdon township have posted notices warning anyone against dumping garbage in the township or driving on the footpaths along the roads. A number of people make it a practice to drive over and spoil the footpaths and the supervisors are waiting to make an example of some of these people. A warning is also posted that anyone destroying or tampering with guide boards will be severely dealt with. Town boys and some country ones, too, have broken down sign boards and otherwise defaced them. Shooting the guide boards is also a favorite pastime with some of the town hunters and the supervisors say that they will land some fellows in jail for this amusement.

A Heavy Fog Down.
This morning was just up to the very highest note in producing fog, and a very thick article of it was thrown over town and country this morning and it didn't lift for quite a while. The early morning milk wagons ought to be equipped with fog horns, and the corner drug stores ought to allow their red lanterns to burn all night, such weather as this.

A SILVER JUBILEE AT MT. PLEASANT

Impressive Services at St. Joseph's Catholic Church—Message Received from the Pope.

Special to The Courier.
MT. PLEASANT, Oct. 7.—The silver jubilee services were held at the St. Joseph's Church all day yesterday when hundreds of Catholics from surrounding towns attended the services conducted in the church by Father May, a former pastor and founder of the local church and Father O'Donnell, now pastor of the church and several others.

A message from the Pope was read at regular mass. During the past few months their local office has been renovated throughout. The grounds have been repaired by walks and trees and the parish has also been repaired. The work will cost about $1,000 which has been donated in subscriptions by local business men and church members.

PAPKE-LEWIS FIGHT.

Out of Town Fans Will Be Taken Care of in Way of Seats.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—(Special).—The National Club has entertained some pretty big crowds at the fights it has staged in the past, but there is every indication that the outpouring on Friday night will set a high water-mark that will not be reached by six-round attractions any place in the country for some time to come.

Billy Papke, the Illinois Thunder-bolt, and the only man with a knock-out to his credit over Stanley Ketchell, and Willie Lewis, the champion of France and England, are to mix it in the main bout that night.

Very wisely and with commendable courtesy, the Club has set aside one section, and out of this the out-of-town orders will be filled. The club officers express the opinion that those who come from a distance are entitled to consideration, and are taking great care of the mail orders.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA.

They Clog the Pores—Only a Liquid
Can Reach the Inner Skin.

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and can not penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the only standard liquid eczema cure, oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription. After ten years of cure after cure, the world's leading skin specialists have accepted this as the true eczema cure.

We ourselves do not hesitate to recommend D. D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle, but for the benefit of those who never tried the prescription, we arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special large trial bottle at 25 cents on an appeal offer now. This first bottle ought to convince every sufferer, and, at any rate, it will surely take away the itch at once.

The Steel Corporation tonnage of the order will be sent to Pittsburgh because its Illinois mills are already over-rushed and because the Pennsylvania order is to points nearer Pittsburgh for shipment.

A MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY OF GOODS

Opening of Mace & Company's Stores.

GREAT CROWD ATTENDS IT

Wide Selection of Goods and Latest Styles Provided For the Fall and Winter Trade—Stores Handsomely Decorated.

All roads led to Mace & Company's huge department store yesterday, the attraction being the annual fall opening. That fall has arrived was shown by the gorgeous display of fall and winter merchandise as well as the decorations which were also suggestive of the season. The opening was one of the most successful events in the history of the store, each department being filled with a mass of people from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until late at night. The crowd in the evening made it almost impossible to gain a passage way leading to the different parts of the store.

Mace & Company's openings are always one of the popular events and are looked forward to with great interest by the shoppers of Conneltsville and vicinity. The courteous treatment of the managers and employees add greatly to the success of the event. Every person attending yesterday was made welcome and the employees took great delight in showing the visitors the new goods which stock each department. The store is replete with novelties, not a department being overlooked by Mr. Mace while on his semi-annual trip to New York.

The store was transformed into a bower of beauty for the occasion, a color scheme of green and white prevailing. Every available space was occupied by tall palms and ferns. The counters were used to display dress goods, silks, trimmings, and other accessories of dress. The rich colorings of silk and fancy dress weaves blended in perfect harmony. The front of the store on the first floor is used for notions and gents' furnishings goods. Miss Margaret Percy has charge of the notions and to her is due credit for the attractive manner in which the large and varied selection of purses, gloves, jewelry, etc., were displayed in the large display cases. A. D. Zeigler has charge of the ladies' department and the display of gents' goods was the largest ever seen in Conneltsville.

In the rear of the store on the first floor is the shoe and dress goods department, the latter being in charge of G. W. Moore, who is ably assisted by Miss Edna Cook and Miss Trump. Artistic drapings of silks in all the newest shades adorned the counters while the display of linens including drawn work, cluny and batonburg work was very handsome. In the shoe department which is in charge of Mark Macco could be found shoes to suit the ladies, men and children.

The muslin underwear is in charge of Miss Elizabeth Gray and a complete stock filled the shelves. The second floor is devoted to ladies' waists, suits, cloaks, millinery and men's clothing. The millinery department in charge of Miss Emma Robison was one of the greatest attractions. Expressions of delight were heard on all sides when the ladies viewed the wonderful display of millinery. The rich-corned and large Russian turbans vied for popularity. The large picture hats with large willow plumes as the only trimming made for smartness. The black hat is very smart while black and white is also very good. The heavier hat is one of the very newest things and the demand for this particular hat is very great.

Miss Katherine McFarland and Miss Rosa McIntyre have charge of the ladies' suits, dresses, waists, etc. Never was there such a wide assortment of ladies' wearing apparel on exhibition in Conneltsville. The large show cases are stocked with suits and cloaks bought from the most fashionable dry goods firms in New York. Especially pretty is the coat dress which is shown in all shades. The new millinery cloaks are stunning. Evening gowns in all styles and handsomely trimmed were exhibited. The severe street suits were shown in the popular shades. The long coat is rapidly coming to the front owing to the popularity of the one-piece dress. The selection of these was large. Furco waists as well as the tailored waist was shown in all colors.

The men's clothing department is in charge of Samuel Openheimer and Rufus Michael. This department was a fitting companion for the other departments and was especially attractive to the men.

The display windows and display case at the entrance of the store were handsomely trimmed for the occasion. Never did the windows look prettier. E. C. Placer, decorator for the firm had charge of the work which showed the results of a very clever decorator. The upper window was devoted exclusively to millinery in the lower window was exhibited a grand display of gents' clothing.

Music was furnished both afternoon and evening by Kitterle's orchestra.

Hair Tonic Slaves

Thousands of people are hair tonic slaves. They buy cheap, ordinary hair tonics for falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp. The hair gives them relief—temporarily. But it doesn't cure. The scalp gets itchy and the hair falls out. Don't be a hair tonic slave! Carbo-Magne really cures scalp disorders. It stops itching, hair falls and stops it for good. It cures dandruff in a few applications, and it stops itching scalp more than that it grows new hair, as thousands can testify.

At first sight Carbo-Magne appears expensive. But it is cheap when you consider that the hair falls from six months to a year, at a cost of $2.00. In the same time, many people spend from $5.00 to $10.00 for cheap hair tonics at 50c a bottle. The hair that falls with each bottle, in worn by men in the hat to hurry results. The Carbo-Magne solution saves from it. It fills the air that circulates over the scalp with the powerful Carbo-Magne essence. Carbo-Magne has cured hundreds right here in Pittsburgh, and it will cure you, if suffering from falling hair, dandruff or itchy scalp. Buy a bottle of Carbo-Magne at once. Price $2.00.

We will send Carbo-Magne on receipt of price, or it may be secured at Barker's Pharmacy, 120 South Pittsburgh street, and leading druggists everywhere. Send to us for our valuable booklet.

HEARST NAMED FOR MAYORALTY.

Formally Nominated at Mass Meeting at New York City.

CAN'T REFUSE, SAY LEADERS

Despite Mr. Hearst's Statement That He Would Not Be a Candidate, a Big Gathering of His Admirers Are Insistent.

New York, Oct. 7.—William Randolph Hearst, once defeated for mayor of this city by George B. McClellan and later defeated by Charles E. Hughes for governor of the state, was nominated for mayor last night at a mass meeting of 4,000 of his admirers at Cooper union. This action was taken despite his authoritative statement that he would not be a candidate. Resolutions were adopted declaring that a committee of five be appointed to take steps for the securing of an entire city, county and borough ticket, which will be placed in nomination by petition.

The meeting was called, according to the leaders, with a view to showing Mr. Hearst that opinion among his followers in the old independence league was so strongly in favor of his running again as to override even his positive declaration. The hopes of the leaders were more than realized—every seat in the big hall was filled and the name of Mr. Hearst was greeted every time it was mentioned with a salvo of cheers.

After a half dozen "opening" speeches, he was formally nominated for mayor, the meeting rose to its feet after the approved manner of political conventions and the demonstration which followed lasted twenty minutes before the chairman's hoarse call for order could be heard.

The leaders and speakers expressed confidence that it would be impossible for Mr. Hearst to refuse. "The third party," which is thus suddenly projected into New York's municipal campaign, will not be known as the independence league, but will probably bear the title "Citizens party," or some similar designation.

The platform, as indicated by the speakers, will express distrust of the intentions of both the Republican and Democratic parties, which have already nominated full local tickets, declaring that a silent alliance exists between Germany and the local Republican machine which would make good government under either an impossibility.

GIRLS RUN IN ALARM

When Man Kills Himself in New York's Financial District.

New York, Oct. 7.—F. H. Ross, formerly of San Francisco, shot himself dead as he sat at his desk in the office of the New Mexico Development company in the financial district. Girl stenographers ran panic-stricken from the building, and when the police arrived Ross, who was known as Captain Ross, was dead with a bullet hole in his temple.

Dependancy over the death of his wife and his own ill health is supposed to have led to the suicide.

ACCIDENTALLY HANGED

Swing Rope Catches Around Baby's Neck and Child Dies.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 7.—George Henry Rambo, seventeen months old, accidentally hanged himself while playing in a swing at a neighbor's home.

The little fellow had toddled over to play with the neighboring Shepherd children. When his mother came for him she and Mrs. Shepherd found the child dead, tangled in the ropes of the swing. It is believed that he fell out while swinging and that his neck caught in the rope.

COMMEMORATING BATTLE

Point Pleasant, W. Va., Having a Four Days' Jollification.

Point Pleasant, W. Va., Oct. 7.—Commemorating the battle of Point Pleasant, which occurred 135 years ago and in which the colonists engaged the Indians, a celebration began here today and will continue for four days. Each day will represent one of the four days of fighting enacted here.

Governor Glascock and Senators Ekins and Scott are among those on the list of speakers.

Banks Will Resist Assessments.

Enid, Okla., Oct. 7.—Interviews with local bank officials indicate that Enid's five state banks will resist the effort to collect an assessment of three-fourths of 1 per cent on average deposits to replenish the guaranty fund now being used to re-establish the Columbia Bank and Trust company of Oklahoma City.

PEARY TO SUBMIT PROOF

Accepts Geographic Society's Offer to Examine Records.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Commander Peary has formally notified the National Geographic society of his acceptance of its offer to examine and pass upon the records of his polar explorations. Notice to this effect came to Professor Willis L. Moore, president of the society, in a telegram from Commander Peary in New York reading as follows:

"Copy of society's resolutions just received. I am not only willing but desire to submit my records and data to a commission of American scientists that is impartially selected."

So far the society has heard nothing from Dr. Cook in answer to this invitation save through the public prints. It is presumed, in view of the fact that the American Geographical society and the Museum of American History in New York also invited both of the polar explorers to submit their records for the consideration of the commission, that Commander Peary has made to them a response similar to that received by the National Geographic society.

COOK MOBBED BY ADMIRERS

Explorer and Wife Center of Great Crush at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—The appearance of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, polar explorer, and Mrs. Cook in the midway of the Union station here turned a crowd of 10,000 orderly continental week visitors into a mob, each member of which tried to pat the explorer on the back. The result was a crush in which the explorer, his wife and the reception committee narrowly escaped physical injury.

The welcome to Dr. Cook began fifteen miles from the city. He stood on the rear platform of the train and bowed his acknowledgments.

Cook's Official Recognition Oct. 15.

New York, Oct. 7.—Friday, Oct. 15, is the date set for the official acknowledgment to Dr. Frederick A. Cook. On that occasion Dr. Cook will receive the freedom of the city and be formally recognized by the board of aldermen as the discoverer of the north pole.

WILL SOON CLASP HANDS

Labor Leader Morrison Says International Federation is Assured.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Without question the visit of President Samuel Gompers to Europe will mean the establishment in the very near future of an international federation of labor, the autonomy of the trade union movement of each country being ordained and guaranteed," said Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor here.

"The general purpose of an international federation of labor," continued Mr. Morrison, "will be for the protection and the advancement of the rights, interests and justice of the wage-workers of all countries and the establishment of international fraternity and solidarity. The establishment of this international organization may not be consummated this year, but it will not be long delayed."

SETBACK FOR GLEASON

New York Lawyer Trying to Recover $80,000 Fee From Thaw.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—John D. Gleason of New York, former counsel for Harry K. Thaw, received a setback in the United States appellate court in his efforts to recover a $80,000 fee from his client.

Gleason brought suit in the circuit court for the southern district of New York following the filing of a petition in bankruptcy by Thaw. Roger O'Mara, who was appointed trustee in the bankruptcy proceedings, obtained an order from Judge Young of the district court blocking the prosecution of Gleason's suit until after Thaw had been adjudged a bankrupt. Gleason in his appeal questioned the legality of the order, but Judge Lansing held the suit was properly stayed under the bankruptcy act.

BLACK ARGUES FOR THAW

Prisoner Renews His Plea For Freedom From Asylum.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Former Governor Frank S. Black appeared before the court of appeals for Harry K. Thaw and attacked the constitutionality of the act under which Thaw was committed to the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane and the law under which Thaw is being detained in that institution.

Mr. Black contended that that section of the code under which Supreme Court Justice Dowling ordered Thaw committed was unconstitutional because the commitment was ordered without due process of law. He held that there was no proof that Thaw was insane at the time of his acquittal.

UNIONS IN RUMPUS

Cleveland Federation Loses Charter and Threatens Trouble.

Cleveland, Oct. 7.—A local fight among labor unions, which may have a serious culmination in the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Toronto, Nov. 8, has arisen here as the result of the expulsion of the local union of electrical workers as a result of their financial troubles. The local central organization partially supported the electrical workers and as a result the Cleveland central body lost its charter.

The unions loyal to the order of the American federation received a new charter and formed a new central organization composed of fifteen unions.

UNVEIL STATUE.

Italian Navigator Claimed to Be Discoverer of Hudson River.

New York, Oct. 7.—Contending that the discovery of the Hudson river, as in the case of the north pole, there is "honor enough for two," thousands of Italians, smothered in flags, bunting and gay uniforms, paraded down Broadway to the battery, where they unveiled a statue of Giovanni de Verrazano, whom historians describe as the first trans-Atlantic voyager to arrive in New York harbor.

With no intention to belittle the achievements of Henry Hudson, Italians maintain that Verrazano discovered the Hudson in 1524, or eighty-five years before the Half Moon's arrival. But the Florentine navigator, evidently regarding the stream as ordinary, left no detailed report of his exploration of the river. On this account he has received but little recognition in the new world for his achievement.

To some unversed in history the demonstration obviously seemed out of place, and either as indicative of their disapproval or in a spirit of rowdiness a number of cliff dwellers in Broadway skyscrapers threw down paper bags filled with water and other missiles upon the marchers.

TURN DOWN $200,000 BOND

Cash No Good at New York Police Headquarters.

New York, Oct. 7.—A personal bond for $200,000 was declined at police headquarters last night in the case of Mike Montoux, who was arrested in an all-night restaurant, charged by a Mrs. John Laird, with whom she formerly lived, with the larceny of a diamond brooch valued at $1,000.

The proprietor of a well-known restaurant reached the sergeant's desk at almost the same time as the prisoner, but as he could offer no real estate as security his bond was declined and the woman went to the station house for the night.

Charley Carr Found Guilty.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7.—The jury in the case of Charles Carr, manager of the Indianapolis baseball club, charged with having played professional baseball on Sunday, returned a verdict of guilty. The proceeding was brought to test the constitutionality of the law permitting Sunday baseball.

DESPERATE RACE FOR LIFE

Five Men Rush to Chicago to Escape Death by Hydrophobia.

Sabina, O., Oct. 7.—In a desperate race for life five men from Lees Creek, seven miles from Sabina, left here for the pasteur institute, at Chicago to try and escape death by hydrophobia. They are Amos Taylor, Lou McClure, Russell Duke, Harry Duke and Boon Snow.

Last night the men endeavored to treat a sick horse belonging to one of the Dukes, when the animal became very violent and bit at everything in sight, covering the men with saliva. A veterinary declared that the animal had hydrophobia and it was shot. It is believed that the horse was bitten by a mad dog.

"Polly of the Circus" Tonight.

It is not often that we are tempted to find fault with a producer of plays for being too generous, but that is the kind of a play producer Frederick Thompson happens to be. He wants to give too much for the money. As a result of his extravagance, he has made "Polly of the Circus" a case of "Polly" and the circus. There will be many who will enjoy the sight of a pretty story of hearts of the tried and found true type, until the circus happens into it. Then in its last 15 minutes it tapers off into a common place little show piece in which Polly is sacrificed to the scenery and the drama to the twinkling lights. At the Solsson tonight.

Howard composed the music, will be prepared for what has been declared to be his best work, for Mr. Howard not only composed the score of "The Flower of the Ranch," but wrote the book and lyrics as well. The play is in three brisk and picturesque acts, and the action of the story proceeds

TAFT IN THE TALL TIMBERS.

Enjoying the Scenic Splendors of the Yosemite Valley.

THREE DAYS OF SIGHTSEEING

Clad in Knaki Uniform, the President Starts on a Jaunt Through Country of Big Trees—Declines Escort of United States Soldiers.

El Portal, Cal., Oct. 7.—Clad in khaki riding breeches, soft shirt, khaki coat, boots and cap, President Taft today started out of El Portal on a three days' trip of sightseeing. This remote little settlement lies at the foot of the Sierras and near the gateway of the Yosemite valley—one of the garden spots of the world.

By stage and on foot he will visit the giant sequoias in the Mariposa big tree grove, will follow the roads and trails leading into the valley and will walk about the floor of that park to admire its imposing scenic splendor.

The visit to the big trees, said to be the oldest and the biggest of living things, comes first in Mr. Taft's itinerary. Leaving by coach early this morning he and his party were driven to Wawona, at the edge of the forest where real monarchs of the trees grow at altitudes of more than 300 feet and more than 100 feet in circumference at the base.

Mr. Taft will be driven through a tunnel cut through the base of one of the old trees which is said to have been standing from 3,000 to 5,000 years. Tomorrow forenoon will be given over to the big trees.

Tomorrow afternoon the president will enter the park from one of the highest points and after a trip to all the show places of the upper levels will begin a descent to the floor, which is inclosed by almost perpendicular cliffs of stone more than 3,000 feet in height. It is the president's first trip into the Yosemite and he has been looking forward to it for months, both as a sightseeing experience and as affording three days of rest from touring crowds and speech-making.

When the park officials heard that the president was coming they arranged to have a troop of United States cavalry act as his escort for the day among the big trees and the two days in the valley.

Mr. Taft was informed of the plans at San Francisco and he asked at once that the escort be dispensed with. He is anxious that the trip through the park shall be devoid of spectacular features and that his visit shall be relieved as much as possible of an official aspect.

OUTRAGE AT BUFFALO.

Second Attempt Made to Blow Up Viaduct With Dynamite.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 7.—A large section of the viaduct over the New York Central tracks near the corner of Elk and Michigan streets was wrecked by dynamite at 1 o'clock this morning. An unsuccessful attempt was made on the morning of Sept. 11 to destroy the same structure.

Hundreds of windows within a radius of a block were shattered by the concussion.

The viaduct, which was nearing completion, was being constructed by S. J. McCall company of Mercer, Pa. The company works on the open shop plan. This is the fifth outrage of the kind in Buffalo and the fourth within a year.

GETS MORE FREEDOM.

Morse Secures New Bond and Keeps Out of Jail.

New York, Oct. 7.—The last of the twenty signatures required to validate the new bail bond for $125,000 which Charles W. Morse had to furnish to save himself from further incarceration in the Tombs prison until the United States circuit court of appeals decides his case were attached to the bond.

Morse was convicted of violating the federal banking laws and sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment, from which he immediately appealed. But the renewal of the bond is regarded as an indication that a decision on the appeal, which was looked for soon after the United States court of appeals convened on Oct. 11, may be delayed until winter.

It was largely through the efforts of Mrs. Morse that the convicted banker was admitted to bail in June. Morse remains busily engaged in straightening out his affairs and is confident that his appeal from his long sentence in prison will be granted. It became known recently that he had succeeded in paying off $7,500,000 of his debts and was fast gaining control of his shattered properties.

GOLLER WAS NEGLIGENT SOMERSET JURY SAYS

His Widow Loses $25,000 Damage Suit Against the B. & O.—Close of Civil Court.

Special to The Courier

SOMERSET, Pa., Oct. 7.—The September term of civil court which has been in session here for nearly two weeks was concluded on Tuesday evening when Judge Kooser instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant in the case of Amanda C. Goller of Confluence against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, an action to recover $25,000 damages for the death of the plaintiff's husband, John Goller, who was struck by train No. 15 at Confluence on March 15, 1906, and instantly killed. The evidence seemed to show that negligent care was not exercised by John Goller and that the accident was due directly to his negligence.

A verdict for the defendants was returned in the case of Daniel Wagner, James T. Hamner et al., an action in trespass to determine the ownership of a tract of 30 acres of valuable land in Shade township occupied by the defendant. The plaintiff claimed that this title to the property was in him by virtue of a patent and that the defendant occupied the land wrongfully. The land is worth about $10,000.

Judge Kooser has called the attention of the County Commissioners to the defective condition of the roof of the court house which admits water by reason of broken tiles. There has been trouble with the roof since the completion of the court house.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleaning the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it relieves itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out and later baldness; in killing it Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an ideal circle charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. (One dollar bottles guaranteed; Graham & Co., Special Agents).

"Why, Lieutenant Sommers," he said, with assumed seriousness, "I thought I owed you an apology for my conversation at dinner discussing the truck gun work and steel and gun making generally—those subjects in which you have no interest and could not understand."

Sommers, catching the spirit of the scene, bowed seriously. "Your apology is accepted, Mr. Durant," he said. "I thought myself it was rather strange that you should choose a subject on a thing neither one of us knew anything about; but, of course, as you were host I clipped in and did the best I could. I hope my remarks on the subject weren't altogether foolish."

Durant turned to his wife. "Where, my dear, you see I've done everything you asked, I've apologized. But really we only talked on that subject because we both thought it was the one thing you were interested in, so we'll have forgiveness all the way round. And now I must get to work." "George," she pleaded.

He paused for one second, his hand on the door.

"Only a little while. You'll all excuse me?"

Sommers and Pinckney bowed, but Frances laughed out loud.

"Dear old dad, what difference would it make whether we excuse you or not? We know you'll go anyway."

"Well, I won't be long," he protested. "Really I won't."

When the door had closed behind him Mrs. Durant drew a long breath; then she brought her foot down with emphasis that was almost a stamp. "I'm going into that study," she declared, "and stay there until I get him out. The idea of his beginning business on the first night home! He won't stay long after I come in!"

"Indeed he won't," agreed Frances. "You know," she went on, with a laughing explanation to Sommers, "whenever mother decides that father simply shall not work she goes into the room, takes a seat where he is bound to see her and just sits there staring at him reproachfully. She calls it moral suasion."

"But does it work?" asked Sommers. "Does it work?" interpolated Pinckney. "If you'd ever seen it you'd understand it would work."

"Yes, indeed," exclaimed Frances. "Father will struggle along for five or ten or even fifteen minutes, but at last that steady stare gets too much for his nerves. He'll begin to make mistakes in his dictating and at last he'll jump out of his chair and stare and then mother will leave a long sigh and say: 'George, dear, I know you are tired. Don't you think you'd better stop awhile? And be honest.'"

"What a splendid system!" laughed Sommers. "And what do you do, Miss Durant, when you want to manage him?"

"The girl smiled. "Oh, that's a secret," she said. "I have my own way of doing it, but it's yours, doesn't it, Edward?"

"You're right there," agreed Pinckney. "I won't forget to hurry how you handled him on the wireless telegraph scheme."

"Wireless telegraph?" exclaimed the naval man. "Do you mean to tell me that you understand wireless telegraphy too?"

"Not very much," confessed the girl. "I do know something about it. Edward taught me the rudiments, and then I went to work myself. I got some of the men up from the shops, and they rigged up a station for me at the top of the house. Father did not know a thing about it until one day I brought him up there and showed him. He didn't think it was very nice for a girl, but what could he do?"

"Oh," said Sommers, "I see your system. You do what you please and then make him agree."

"Don't you think it a good one?" inquired the girl innocently. "The man smiled and shrugged his shoulders.

"Good for little things, but how would it work for a big one?"

The question was lightly put and all three were smiling. "The smile on the men's faces," said just a bit self. "For behind that question both knew there was a great deal left unsaid."

Frances tossed her head lightly, but the tone of her answer was vital with disavowal.

"And on the big ones too, Mr. Sommers. I do always what seems best to me."

Pinckney turned away sharply, while the smile in the face of the naval officer became more natural and a little broader.

"You know I'd like to see this wireless room," he said. "It must be a really place."

some German. Edward just told me that we had bought the patents and controlled them. But that doesn't affect your gun any, does it?"

Sommers looked up from the model he had been studying.

"Frankly," he said, "if this model is correct it won't affect my gun. The Sommers gun has the good points of this one and a new principle which I expect will partly revolutionize things for whoever manufactures it."

"It all depends on the forging. If my gun is forged right and properly tempered, well," he paused, then went on with a confident smile—"I don't want to brag, but honestly I am not afraid of any gun that ever was cast. It will all be in the forging, and tomorrow will tell that. We'll put it through tomorrow night."

"Oh, I hope it goes through all right!" cried the girl. "It must go through! It would be terrible to think of a failure."

"Yes," he said grimly, "it would." "It would mean," she asked, "the blasting of your hope?"

He shrugged his shoulders. "That would be a minor consideration. It would mean death to the men who are handling the gun and combat and disgrace for me. You see why I'm interested."

"But there's no chance of a failure," she exclaimed, her eyes big with alarm. Sommers laughed.

"Not of the Durant works, I think," he said. "That's why I was glad when the government decided to have a gun cast here. Your father's plant there has a reputation for the highest class, most careful work, so I feel safe, even if you do own patents on the Rhine-strom gun."

"You'll be here for the forging?" she asked.

"Of course," he replied. "I'll be down to the works superintending as much as I can."

"And I," murmured the girl half to herself, "will be up here waiting eagerly, anxiously, watching for you to come with the news that everything has gone right. Oh, what a pity it is that you should invent this gun and not get anything for your brains and your labor!"

He shook his head, smiling. "No," he said; "it's right. That's part of the contract I made with Uncle Sam when he took me in at Annapolis. He educated me, gave me the chance to work, and I promised to devote my life to him."

"We're all merely cogs in the big machine, Miss Durant, we fellows from Annapolis and West Point, cogs in the machine that makes the flag, and the flag's the biggest thing to us, you know. It's hard sometimes, fearfully hard. We have to give up a lot. But it's duty, and duty is what we must think of."

The girl had been looking at him, admiration and just a hint of something more showing in her face.

"Yes," she said at last; "after all, you men of the navy and the army are the real patriots working for your country. You seem to be about the

"Then the Sommers gun has to compete with the Frances Durant gun?"

Only ones who do any real sacrificing? Then her voice became more earnest. "But I don't see why you should sacrifice everything."

The man laughed somewhat grimly. "That's just it, you see," he said. "We try not to sacrifice everything. We always try not to sacrifice our self-respect, I think."

"Self-respect, self-interest! It isn't self-respect men won't sacrifice," she snapped. "It's generally selfishness. Oh, how you men do love to fool yourselves! You step back and stand on your dignity, so proud and hard and rigid, and you pretend you're suffering, that you are heroes who won't sacrifice self-respect, and in reality you are nothing of the kind. looked around at the complete little workshop in amazement. Besides the wireless outfit, he saw tools, modern sharp, a drawing table, a little workbench—everything in fact, that it seemed to him a mechanical inventor would really need.

"You use all these," he exclaimed. "Why, of course," she said. "This is my lab. I work up here on dark days. And, I have plenty of those in Pittsburg, you know."

The man could not have controlled his astonishment. He examined several of the models. They were on improvements in wireless telegraphy, various mechanical devices and even the model of a little gun.

"Oh, I've patented them all!" exclaimed Pinckney. "I don't know that any of them amounts to much, but I patented them just the same. You see, you're not the only gun inventor, Mr. Sommers."

"Then the Sommers gun has to compete with the Frances Durant gun?" he asked quizzically.

She shook her head, smiling. "No, I'll tell you a secret. I wouldn't let them make a gun of mine if I could patent it, but that is just a little model of the Rhine-strom gun, which Edward has great faith in. Marsh made the model for me."

"Oh, the Rhine-strom gun!" said Sommers, with lifted eyebrows. "I've heard something of that around the works. Your man Marsh seems to have great faith in it. Who is this Rhine-strom?"

GREAT VICTORY FOR OHIO MAN.

International Balloon Race
Is Won by Edgar
W. Mix.

BRAVE STRUGGLE BY AMERICAN

Although Wind and Rain Compelled
His Competitors to Make a Landing, Mix Withstood the Elements
Until Ballast Was Exhausted.

Kurik, Switzerland, Oct. 7.—All Europe is toasting America and her champion balloonist, Edgar W. Mix, who, after a remarkable and dramatic struggle against wind and rainstorms, has carried off first honors in the international balloon race for the Gordon Bennett cup by sailing from Zurich to the heart of the forest north of Warsaw, in Russian Poland.
The official classification has not yet been announced but it is calculated that Mix covered a distance of between 1,000 kilometres (648.94 miles)
and 1,100 kilometres (695.53 miles).
While there is some disappointment felt because of the failure of the Swiss pilots to repeat last year's victory the general sentiment is one of satisfaction that America has taken the prize. Experts in aeronautics are filled with admiration for Mix's achievement, pointing out that the storm which drove the more experienced balloonists to earth could not conquer the American.

The first news of Mr. Mix's landing was conveyed in a personal dispatch.
The aeronaut said:

"I landed in the midst of a large pine tree in the forest of Gutova, west of Ostrohska and north of Warsaw.
I encountered a heavy rain. My ballast was exhausted when I came down. At present I am in the hands of the police, but all is going well."

It is evident from Mr. Mix's message that in spite of the discouragement of drifting onward without knowing his location, the American aeronaut husbanded his balast, and kept his balloon aloft until the last ounce of sand was gone. He made his journey through fog and blinding rain-storms which compelled all the other pilots to descend.

After crossing the Swiss and the Austrian Alps, Captain Mesner, one of the Swiss pilots, reported that his clothes were covered with ice to a thickness of half an inch. Mesner reached an altitude of 18,000 feet.
Of the division of balloons which were carried more to the southward, Le Blanc, one of the French pilots, reached the farthest point. He descended in the foothills of the Carpathian mountains, being forced to abandon his balloon owing to an accident upon landing.

It is possible that Mr. Mix, by jockeying, was able to catch a more northeasterly current of air and that after he passed to the south of Prague he continued to the point where he landed north of Warsaw. He is the only constant to cross the Russian frontier.
Some of the contestants relate perilous experiences which happened to them during the race. Emilie Du-bonnet, representing France, says that he had a remarkable escape at the time of his descent. His guide rope caught in the chimney of a house on a mountain slope and was torn away from the balloon, which shot up about 7,000 yards. His ballast was exhausted and the balloon descended again with frightful rapidity, but he managed to escape serious mishap.

Stolyin Promises Speedy Release.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 7.—When the news that the American balloonist Edgar W. Mix was under arrest at Ostrohska, north of Warsaw, was communicated to Premier Stolyin at his country estate, the premier promised to expedite his release.

MIX POPULAR IN PARIS

Winner of Balloon Race Will Be Guest of Honor at Banquet.
Paris, Oct. 7.—While the French people are disappointed to have the United States hold both blue ribbons of the international balloon race, it is popular here, and the Aero Club of France will probably give a banquet in his honor.

Mr. Mix came to Paris shortly after he graduated from Ohio State university in 1888. He made a reputation as an electrical engineer and became interested in ballooning as a sport.

Dayton Wants Balloon Race.
Dayton, O., Oct. 7.—President O. J.
Needham of the Dayton Aero club announced that that organization will make a determined effort to bring the next race of the International Aero club to this city and has reason to believe that the weight of the Wright's influence will have considerable bearing on the result.

Killed by Penny's Flyer.
Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 7.—George W.
Stipe, Jr., a prominent young resident of Middletown, was struck by the Pennsylvania flyer in a fog near his home here. He was crossing the track and failed to see the express because of the dense fog. A widow and four children survive.

Half Moon and Clermont to Be Placed in New York Parks.

New York, Oct. 7.—The reproduction of Henry Hudson's exploring vessel Half Moon, which took a central part in the Hudson-Fulton celebration, will be permanently placed in a lake in Prospect park, Brooklyn,
where it will continue on exhibition.
The Clermont will probably be given to the Manhattan park department and may be placed in a lake in Central park. The two vessels will become museums containing relics of the first exploration of the Hudson river and of the first application of steam to navigation.

SINKS IN MIDSTREAM

Bullett Fall to Stop Escaped Prisoner,
But River Gets Him.
Cincinnati, Oct. 7.—After escaping a fustling of bullets fired at him by police officers, Charles Brown, who escaped from the Covington (Ky.)
workhouse, was drowned in Licking river.

Brown, who was being held on a charge of theft, made a wild dash for liberty and in his flight plunged into the river while pursuing officers kept up a continual fire from revolvers. In midstream he collapsed and sank.

NEW LYNCH STORE.

Uniontown's
Exclusive Quality Store
for Men and Boys.

A Chain You Know is Just as Strong as Its Weakest Link, No Stronger. A Suit of Clothes is Just as Good as Its Poorest Part, No Better.

THE POOR PART of clothes is the part you can't see. Makers know how to look out for that. The advantage of such clothes as we sell is in the fact that we buy from long established and reliable houses, the leading manufacturers in the business; people who make clothes that are good through and through. While other manufacturers have been bending every energy toward the perfection of their various products the clothing manufacturers, also, have been making the most of the golden opportunities. The hundreds who view our magnificent showing of approved Fall and Winter styles for men and boys will note much progress in both the designing and the tailoring. New ideas have been advanced, smart models have been created, all of which argues well for the ultimate triumph of ready-made clothing and indicate the widening of the breach between the high priced merchant tailor and the well dressed fellow and the man of affairs of today.

OUR FALL SHOWING is not comprised of the clothes of a simple maker, on the other hand it is a most comprehensive affair, broad in scope—clothes made by six of the leading makers in the East and West, headed by the celebrated Atterbury System Clothes, High Art Clothes and Adler's Collegian Clothes.

Values in Men's and Young Men's Autumn Suits and Overcoats That Easily Establish the New Lynch Store Supremacy.

We have won distinction not only as a style center, but as an institution of superior value-giving. On the Second Floor are thousands of suits and overcoats, embracing every style and fabric under the sun. If you come here to purchase your Autumn Suit, ask to see our
